All-Female Highlight Pro Skydiving Team Lands in Woodlawn to Commemorate the Centennial Anniversary of Women's Right to Vote

On Aug. 26th, the Highlight Pro Skydiving Team, an all-female skydiving team focused on highlighting women's rights initiatives, performed a spectacular aerial display across New York City to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the 19th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution, which secured women's right to vote. New York City's roots in the women's rights movement attracted the Highlight team to this event. The jumps paid special tribute to Woodlawn Cemetery, where suffragists Elizabeth Cady Stanton and Carrie Chapman Catt are laid to rest, and also to Monumental Women, a nonprofit organization set to unveil its Women's Rights Pioneers Monument in Central Park honoring suffragists Sojourner Truth, Susan B. Anthony and Elizabeth Cady Stanton. It will be the first statue depicting real women in the park.
